Additional information or questions:

There will be a travel orientation session tentatively on May 1st. Attendance at this session is mandatory to travel.*

The conditions for travel in developing countries are noticeably different from those in the United States and other developed nations. Food, weather, and social conditions are not what you are likely used to. It is important to be aware of these conditions when applying for this experience.*

The cost of this trip will be $1000 for each student that travels. We will provide fundraising packets to those interested in order to aid them in raising the funds. While this is a large sum of money for a student, keep in mind that this does not even cover the cost of your plane ticket. If selected for travel, a deposit of $250 will be due before the beginning of Spring Break.
